SUMMER SCHOOL IS TOP NOTCH OPERATION

Wilmington's Summer School, operated in the High School and three grammar schools, the Wildwood, Boutwell, and Glen Road, has been recognized as a major contribution to the educational efforts of the Commonwealth.

Tufts University has sent three student teachers to assist the Wilmington teachers with their over 500 pupil enrollment, this year.

The teachers are not of the ordinary run-of-the-mill student teacher variety. Instead they are experienced personnel who are studying for their Master or Doctorate in Education - and as such have something to impart to the Wilmington teachers as well as the pupils.

Mrs Mollie Rubenstein is assisting Roger Breakey and Dick Keady, in the High School Math classes. A resident of Burlington, she graduated from Indiana University, and has a Master of Arts from Columbia University. Mrs Rubenstein is one of the better students in Tufts today, with all her marks being in the A- or B plus category.

Personal Interest

The three teachers, who put in a full morning every day with the summer students, are under the personal guidance of the Director of Student Teaching at Tufts, Dr. C Burleigh Wellington. Both Dr. Wellington and Dr Daniel Marshall, Chairman of the Department of Education at Tufts will be making several visits to Wilmington during the summer for the purpose of evaluating the program.

Harold E. Shea, Wilmington's Superintendent of Schools, is particularly elated at the recognition given Wilmington by being included in the summer program of Tufts. Prior to this only student teachers in the primarly level were available to Wilmington schools

610 Classes

The summer school, which operates five mornings a week, is the largest ever, with over 500 pupils, and a class count of 610 - some of the pupils taking more than one subject.

Miss Mary Boutelier is in charge, with Vincent Gallucci as Administrative Assistant.

In addition to the Driver Education teacher, James Desmond, there are 15 regular teachers plus the 3 pupil teachers.

Classes are taught from the third grade level through High School, and the hours are from 8:30 am to 11:45 am. The classes will end on August 3rd

The primary purpose is to allow students who have poor marks for some reason or other to catch up to their classmates.

Classes are: Elementary Reading, Grades 3 through 6; Reading, both Developmental and Speed, Grades 7 through 12; Math, grades 7 through 12; and Social Studies, for grades 7 and 8.

TEACHERS WIN SCHOLARSHIPS

Three Wilmington High Schools Teachers, who have been awarded scholarships under the National Defense Educational Program.

L to R, Diane Xenakis, of Woburn, French teacher, who will study this summer at Tufts, Maureen Halpin of Stoneham, Math teacher, who is to study at Bowdoin, and Georgia Dadoly of Dracut, Science teacher, who is to study at Syracuse University. All three scholarships were made possible under the National Science Foundation.

TODAY IS LAST DAY FOR SABIN POLIO TYPE III

The Wilmington Board of Make Up Clinic for Sabin Type III vaccine is to be held from 9am to noon today, in the Community Center at the Old Age Housing Project on Deming Way.

Any child, from three months through High School, who has not had the Sabin Type III vaccine is eligible to receive it, free.

This will probably be the last clinic this year for the Type 888 vaccine.

HERBERT NICKERSON ELECTED DIRECTOR OF REGIONAL PLANNING BOARD

Herbert Nickerson, Carie Drive, was elected a Co-Director of Region 5 Planning Boards, in a meeting held in Saugus Monday night.

Mr. Nickerson, a member of the Wilmington Planning Board, and District Health Engineer for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, will be one of two co-directors.

The Wilmington Planning Board extended an invitation to the regional group to hold their fall meeting, or maybe the one to be held a year from now, in Wilmington.

SIDEWALKS NEED ATTENTION SAYS MRS DREW

Mrs Drew thought they needed attention, as being in 'bad condition'.

10 YEAR TOWN EMPLOYEES

Employees of the town of Wilmington with 10 years service will get a three week vacation this year, and in following years, with the exception of those under Civil Service, i.e the Police and Fire Department employees.

John Brooks, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, and also Chairman of the Personnel Board, stated Monday night that a joint meeting of the Personnel Board and Town Manager had decided on the program It was adopted by the Selectmen, effective immediately.

Brooks stated that the present program was outmoded, in which two week vacations had been the rule.

Firemen and Policemen get two weeks vacation the first year, three weeks after the fifth, and four weeks after the tenth year.

THE BAKER WAS THE MOST IMPORTANT

The Rotary Club of Wilmington yesterday had an important luncheon, in which not only the new President was inducted, but also the new District Governor, and Scotty Laganas baked a special cake for the occasion, so he got the place of honor in the picture that was taken afterwards.

BUS LOAD OF REPUBLICANS TO ATTEND GO PARTY

A busload of Wilmington Republicans and friends are to leave, tonight, at 7 pm., from Weinberg's parking lot to attend the mammoth GO Party, in Boston Garden.

Mrs Albert E Kitchener, Finance Chairman of the Wilmington Republican Town Committee had hired a small bus, but because of the number of reservations has had to substitute a large one. A few seats are still available, she reports. Arrangements have been made with Mr Weinberg for parking at the side parking lot.

The response from Wilmington Republicans has been tremendous, Mrs Kitchener reports, and credit for every ticket will go towards the 1962 quota of Wilmington. Cards that have been mailed out may to returned to Mrs Kitchener, with donations, or phone calls may be made to anyone on the committee.

Mrs Kitchener has named as her committee: Mrs Howard Murphy, Miss Patricia MacPeeley, Ernest Ardolino, Miss Maude W. Richardson, Miss Libby Sanborn Mrs Joseph Slater, Vernon Walsh and Winthrop Polsey.

SILVER LAKE EXCELLENT FOR SWIMMING

The waters of Silver Lake are excellent for swimming, Health Officer Ernie Romano reports.

He tested the water at both the Town Beach and McQuaid's Beach, last Thursday, and found that both beaches had a bacteria count of less than 100 per cubic centimeter.

100 or less rates is Excellent.

BOOKMOBILE

The Bookmobile will call at the Wilmington Housing Authority on July 2nd at 11:15 am and at Hathaway Acres at 2:45 pm.

IMPASSE ON EIGHT LOTS OF SIGNORE DEVELOPMENT

OLD BONDS HAMPER AGREEMENT

Two bonds, each for $10,000, given by the former developer of the Signore development in North Wilmington, proved to be a stumbling block, Tuesday night, towards the erection of eight homes.

Atty Don Sleeper of Burlington, representing the owner of the eight lots, three of which have cellars on them, told the board that he was 'ready, willing and able' to proceed with construction of parts of Barbera Avenue, Anthony Avenue and Dorothy Avenue, in order to have the houselots suitable for building.

The Planning Board could not give permission, as Atty Jim Banda, one of the members, told Sleeper that a suit is pending about the two former bonds, which were to guarantee the construction of the streets

Chairman Bob Evans told Sleeper that "we don't want to do anything to jeopardize the town's position (in the pending lawsuit).

Atty Fred Obrum, representing Vokey & Parsons, the would-be purchasers, and Atty Sleeper agreed that the best thing was to see the Town Counsel, on the chance that he would write a letter of explanation which would allow the Planning Board to lift restrictions on the eight lots.

ALICE IN CURBSTONE LAND

The curbstone program, in Wilmington is, to say the least, amusing. Alice in Wonderland had another term: Curiouser and Curiouser.

A couple of years ago the Selectmen voted to pub granite curbstones in front of the churches and town hall. This was done after they had seen how the granite curbstones had improved the area around the High School.

No one could argue much with that decision, even though it costs the taxpayers $5, $6 a foot, for granite curbstones are attractive and long lasting, and beat all other kinds.

Then the brainstorm of the new sidewalks at the new North School hit the TM and a couple of the Town Hall Brass. Reportedly it was the Chairman of the Selectmen who decided on the granite curbstone part of the program.

This program was instituted without any of the usual inter-department checking that one expects in a well run town, and it was only as the result of a great effort that the TM and Chairman were able to sit on the threatened eruption when the Planning Board finally got around to the plans.

But, by agreeing that the street would be a 50 foot taking the Planning Board was mollified, and the question of the costs of sidewalk and curbstones was allowed to die.

Even such a respected lady as Mrs Drew firmly believes that the TM's proposed program was saving money for the town - which just goes to show something or other.

But the TM is still pursuing the idea - he just has to prove he is right. and Brooks and De Felice are in the same boat, to judge by Monday night's meeting of the Selectmen.

The TM had instructed the Town Accountant to write the State School Building Assistance Commission for a ruling on sidewalks, etc., relative to new school construction.

The answer, sent by William J. Curley, Head Administrative Assistant said, in effect that the state does not approve of cost of sidewalk projects that are not in the confines of a school site or of public ways.

Mr. De Felice: Then they haven't done it in Wilmington?

Mr. Brooks: No.

The inference being, of course, that neither of the gentlemen want to believe that the sidewalks at the high school, including the granite curbstones, have been a part of the state-aided program for building the High School, nor could it be a part of the state-aided program for building the North School.

They do not have to write to Boston for the information, and when they do write to Boston they should study the answer a little more.

They can get the answer from the Chairman of the High School Building Committee, Atty Fred Corum, who has stated publicly that the sidewalks around the High School were built with state-aid.

They can also get the answer from the Chairman of the Wilmington Permanent Building Committee, Mr. Erwin Hanke, who has written a letter which is on file in the Town Hall stating No one approached the Permanent Building Committee relative to any sidewalk program, from the Town Hall; and if anyone had the sidewalks could have been included in the cost of building the North School.

That's clear enough, but Mr Hanke went further, and stated that the sidewalk program could possibly be still included, if application were made, which could mean a savings for our taxpayers.

But of course if such an application were made it would prove the Town Manager was wrong. So it won't be, and to heck with the taxpayers.

AND THE CHURCH STREET CURBSTONES

Of interest to the residents of streets that have been built under the Betterment Program in recent years should be the curbstone program now going on along Middlesex Avenue and Church Street.

In recent weeks about 3000 feet of curbings, made of concrete and laid during the WPA days have been ripped out, on those two streets. The story, unconfirmed as yet, is that granite curbstones is to be substituted.

Again there is no argument but that granite curbstones are much better than the old concrete ones, which were in pretty sad shape.

But there is an interesting question as to who is paying for curbstones, in Wilmington.

On about a dozen or so Betterment Streets the "hot top" variety of curbstone was put in, at a cost to the abuttor of about 75¢ a foot. The abuttors were told in public hearings by the Board of Selectmen that if the cost of the streets was less than anticipated there would be a reduction in the cost to the individuals. In no case did this happen.

The Church Street-Middlesex Ave program seems to be a part of the 1962 Highway program, but to the best of our recollection nothing was said in Town Meeting about curbstones. It seemed that the people were voting for streets.

So now, seemingly, the people who live on Betterment Streets are having the dubious pleasure of paying 100% of the cost of their own curbstones, and their share of the cost of the Middlesex Ave-Church St curbstones, of a more expensive variety.

TOWN NOTES

Welcome Rain

After a couple of weeks of near drought we had some welcome rain Sunday and again Tuesday, .77 inches the first time and .15 the second. Now no one will need to water his lawn for a few days.

New Quarters

The town's health officer, Ernie Malone, told the Board of Health that he has been told he would be in his new quarters before Labor Day. We don't know where the new quarters would be.

Presumably that might mean that the Health Board will go into the present Public Library will be in old St Thomas before Labor Day.

So we asked the Librarian, and she hasn't heard a word.

The Golden Pea Spoon

It would seem that this years contest for the Golden Pea Spoon (entirely mythical), is over, but we won't announce the winner yet.

The lady who seems to be the winner of our annual contest had peas for dinner of June 17 which is the traditional day for the first peas from New England, (at least eastern Massachusetts) gardens.

The lady, it seems, has a secret weapon - her husband. He got out early and dug the garden for her, and that's two thirds of the battle.

One of our early pea-pickers, this year, was Louis Alberto of Marjorie Road - but he was not first.

After Louis came Carmen Micilli, of Shawsheen Avenue. Mr. Micilli had peas for dinner on June 16, which is very early, but in this case not early enough.

There were several claimants for the 22nd and 23rd of June, and even a few for as late as the 25th.

But we are still going to hold off a week before announcing the name of the winner of the Golden Pea Spoon for 1962.

It may be that so eone had peas from their garden before the 17th of June, and that he is an amateur gardener.

If no claims are in by next week we'll tell the name of the lady, and someday, if ever we get a Golden Pea Spoon to award, her name will be found (we hope) in that spoon.

Fishing

Local fishing is for the birds, nowadays, but Doc Wallent, John Vertis of Longview Road, and Ralph Ryan of the No Wilmington Hardware had a very nice day, last Thursday, on the Merrimac, at Newburyport.

They came back with 18 stripers, using fresh water tackle and seaworms.

Old Friend

We missed seeing him, but we are told that the Paul Dayton of Long Beach California were back in town for a few days. They arrived here in time to see the Memorial Day parade.

Yup! It's a Seven

The Town Crier has had several calls because of a new advertisement, the Wilmington Automatic Transmission Co., in Sam Grant's garage on Main St. It seems that our readers cannot believe that their telephone number could begin with

3A CHURCH STREET

Interesting, What?

On July 9, at 9 pm the Selectmen are having an enquiry into the Betterment Program, in the Town Hall, and the Superintendent of Streets is asked to be present.

The public, of course, can attend, under the provisions of the Open Meeting Law, which says that they can listen to all questions and answers. They cannot, themselves, ask questions without the permission of the Selectmen, but they cannot be barred from listening.

In view of the interest being shown in several instances of the costs of the Betterment Streets there might possibly be some interesting questions, come Monday, July 9, at 9 pm.

AND ONE MORE THOUGHT

We couldn't afford to put in a playground at the North School, even if it were with state-aided funds.

But, if the Church Street curbings prove to be of granite, we could afford $15 - $18,000 to spend on a different program which will not benefit the children very much, and essentially will be an improvement of values for certain private homes.

a seven. It has always been OL 8, or OL 4, or OL 2, and an odd number strikes our readers wrong. One of them triumphantly wrote and told us we had a blooper.

But the number is right, and its two local lads, Frank Daniels and Felix Fortunata who are running the business.

Those Radar Towers

Up on Lots of Sol Avenue, in North Wilmington, in the corner of Routes 125 and 93, Avco in the past two weeks has erected three radar towers. The towers were completed last Saturday.

The towers are 400 feet high, and have a suspension system so that materials can be hoisted into the air and be part of a test conducted by a radar set on the ground. Being as high as they are the towers constitute a good set of lightning protectors for the Charles River Laboratories nearby.

The first thing Avco did was to put in a hot topped road up to the site, then the towers arrived, in sections 30 or 40 feet long. The construction time was about 10 days, and now Wilmington can be seen from miles away.

The tests will be conducted from a huge trailer-office, which arrived last Friday, and was too big to negotiate a curve going up a hill, as it tried to turn off Ballardvale Street.

The delivery men had to try several times, to get it up that hill - the back of the trailer kept on 'grounding' on Ballardvale Street, and traffic, of course, was tied up.

As it was described to this paper it was quite funny.

Best Friend (?)

Young Kevin McKelvey, High School orator par excellance, is working for the Water Department this summer. Kevin met a dog Tuesday, while helping to make an installation at a private home.

The lady of the house assured Kevin that the dog was a good one who never bit people.

Kevin found out otherwise.

And Jimmy White, Superintendent of Streets, reports that there is a dog on River Street who comes up to people to be petted, and then, when the petting is over, and the people turn away the dog nips in the rear of the former petter.

Ze Secret Weapon!

We haven't had a chance to compare notes with our Gendarmes recently, but we note that their unmarked Police Cruiser was delivered to them last week, by Wilmington Ford.

Now, at last, they have Ze Weapon Secret et Mobile!

Railroad Bridge

Last week we noted that the Selectmen were complimenting Cecil Lancaster because the B&M was in a hurry to repair the Nichols Street bridge.

Even while the paper was printed another bridge went out of order - this time the Eames Street bridge. A heavy truck was the cause, and altho the truck escaped without much damage the bridge became impassible.

The gendarmes went down and closed the bridge, putting up a couple of 'bombs', (the oil lights) to warn motorists.

Some kids came along, and threw the bombs into the brush - still burning.

Somebody saw the fires in the brush and turned in the fire alarm.

The fire alarm number is for the area where the plastic and paint factories are - so all the knowing individuals went streaming down, to see a good fire.

All told there was a lot of fun.

But the B&M was very prompt on repairs. They have some heavy six inch planks down there, and a crew of men are putting them in position for a new surfacing of the bridge.

The Red Hand

A couple of weeks ago the Building Inspector of Wilmington did something a couple of weeks ago that no Building Inspector ever should do - he cut a finger with a buzz saw.

For a while he went around with a bandage. Now he has his hand covered, to stop people from asking questions.

But he has it covered with a red glove, and there are plenty of questions about that.

BOARD OF APPEALS HANDS DOWN FIVE DECISIONS

The Board of Appeals, Tuesday night, handed down five decisions on recent cases.

An application to divide a parcel of land on Grove Avenue and Burnap Street, opposite the DAV Clubhouse into three lots was denied. The board ruled that the variance sought was 35%, that this was too great, and that two lots of land was all that the parcel could be divided into.

The hearing was on the application of Guy T Piscopo of Lynn Fells parkway, Melrose, and was heard on April 24th.

In a hearing on May 6th., for the Jackson Brothers of Wilmington the Board ruled in favor of a 5 foot variance on 4 lots of land, on Marcia Road, in North Wilmington, providing that the houses were so built as to allow room for a later garage, if desired.

Joseph and Adele Autras of Bridge Lane were granted a variance to allow for the erection of a garage, in a hearing held on May 8th.

Mrs Helen C Syvertsen of Morse Avenue was denied a variance for land at the corner of Morse Avenue and Bellvue Ave. She owns two lots of land there, with a total area of 20,260 feet, and wanted to build on one.

The board ruled that she had demonstrated no hardship. The hearing was on May 15th.

A hearing on June 5th., on land owned by Garnet Mills, on Westdale Avenue, found a favorable response by the board.

Mr Mills owns the last open lot of land on Westdale Ave. which is 100 by 136 feet, insufficient according to the new zoning law, but the board felt to deny him an application to build would create a lasting hardship, and voted approval.

COMMENTS BY SELECTMAN DE FELICE ON SIGNS AND 'HORSES'

Selectman Nicholas De Felice, speaking in the Selectmen's Meeting Monday night, drew attention to some wooden 'horses' on Lowell Street, which had been placed there to aid in the regulation of parking.

Noting that the horses were owned by a private company, but bore No Parking, Wilmington Police Department legends, Mr. DeFelice stated that the 'horses' were out in the road, and wondered if the town could be liable if there were an accident.

He also mentioned the Webtex sign, which has recently been placed at the corner of Woburn and Lowell Streets as something worthy of attention.

The traffic control light at the corner of Woburn and Lowell streets was also mentioned by De Felice, when he stated that he understood it has cost the town $3000 to reerect the signals, which have been frequently knocked down as the result of automobile accidents.

Selectman Brooks directed a letter to the State Department of Public Works, drawing attention to the frequent accidental damaging of the signal.

PLEASANT ROAD BOUNDARIES MAY BE OUT OF POSITION

Chairman John Brooks, speaking in the Selectmen's meeting Monday night stated that he understood, as a result of the betterment program on Pleasant Road, in North Wilmington, that the street bounds are two feet out of position.

The bounds are out of position compared to the state surveys, made for Route 93, he stated, and seemed to have been taken from a point located by a private surveyor.

If the statement is correct the people on the north side of Pleasant Road will be losing two feet of land, along the road, and those on the south side will be gaining two feet.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH BURLINGTON, MASS.
Rev. Richard G. Douse

This Sunday morning at 9:30 ap the regular worship service will be held in the Wildwood School at Francis Wyman Road (Rt. 62) and Old Bedford Road. This is the first service of the summer schedule, which includes the months of July and August. The sermon theme will be 'God of Our Fathers'.

There will be no Sunday Church School, although the Nursery Care with a registered nurse in charge and the preschool class will be held during the worship service.

ALL EYES ON THE CAKE

Ex President Ed Osberg (left) of the Wilmington Rotary Club, and Governor Bill Stevens eye the cake made for them by Scotty Laganas. It was divided, 50-50, but, having been baked in the shape of a golf course Bill got the most holes.

PLANNING BOARD MIGHT RECONSIDER REZONING ALONG ROUTE 93

The Wilmington Planning Board Tuesday night tentatively discussed a possible study of restudy of the zoning along Rte 93, and possibly Lowell Street

The discussion never really got going, but will be resumed later, the board agreed.

One of the causes of the discussion was a visit by John Lucci, to the Board of Selectmen the night before, in which meeting Mr Lucci advised he was going to ask for Zoning Changes near his store, for land he has purchased from the Downs farm.

The discussion became intermingled with a discussion about the Rotary Park and land adjacent, owned by Middlesex County Bank.

A joint meeting of representatives of the Selectmen and Planning Board, with Rotarians and representatives of the bank, some eight months ago, ended, Mrs Jean Gifford said, with an agreement to send a copy of the proposed plans for the area 'within two weeks' to the Planning Board.

'Maybe the Town Manager got a Plan' Mrs Gifford said, 'but the Planning Board never did'.

Mrs Gifford and Atty Jim Banda were appointed a sub-committee to see if there were any further developments as to the planning by the Middlesex Bank and Rotary Park.

FRANK McLEAN FIRST CHAIRMAN OF COUNCIL FOR THE AGEING

Frank McLean, 32 Salem Street was elected Chairman, Monday night, of an Advisory Group appointed by the Town Manager which is to be known as the Council for the Ageing.

Mr McLean, a past member of the Wilmington Housing Authority, and a past chairman of the Baldwin Civic Association was elected unanimously, after which he stated that it was his belief that the chairman of the organization should be 'rotated', and accepted on that condition.

Elected Vice Chairman was Lawrence Doucette of Oakdale Road; Secretary Mrs Dudley Buck of Birchwood Road, and Treasurer John L Boeri, of Lloyd Road.

The first meeting was spent in organizational plans, and in listening to two members of the Weymouth Council for the Aging, Mrs Ruth Cain and Miss Ruth Pope. Mrs Cain is chairman of the Weymouth organization, and a member of the Governor's Sub-Committee on Community Organization for Aged Citizens.

The ladies told the Wilmington group that much future thought must be given to the problems of the aging because statistics indicate that age groups are going to increase, up to the ages of 100 - 110.

On the council are in addition to those named: Harold R Gunn, Walter J Sevener, Helen R Casey, John J Burke, Josephine M Stone, Mrs Doris L Stantial and N Loring Webster.

The council will meet the last Monday in July and August and then more frequently in September.

The organization, Mr. McLean stated, is not a 'social group', but rather a 'clearing house of information' concerning Health, Education, Recreation, and other problems of aging citizens.

FOREST STREET CHURCH TO HAVE VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

The Forest Street Community Church will conduct, for the first time, a Vacation Bible School, for one week, beginning next Monday, July 2nd.

The closing exercises will be at the 10 am services on July 8th., and the theme is to be 'Adventuring with Christ' with classes for pre-schoolers thru High School.

The program is to include games, handcraft and group singing. All children and young people are welcome.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
(Seal) MIDDLESEX SS.

To the Sheriff of our County of Middlesex or his Deputies, Greeting:

Whereas, at a meeting of the County Commissioners for said County, at Cambridge, on the first Tuesday of June, A.D. 1962.

On the petition of Inhabitants of Wilmington, for laying out and construction of Ballardvale Street, Wilmington line to the proposed new Route 93 it was adjudged that said laying out and construction is of common convenience and necessity:

Said Commissioners therefore give notice that they will meet at the County Commissioners' Office, Superior Court House, in East Cambridge on the seventeenth day of July, 1962 at 11:00 of the clock in the forenoon, to relocate and direct specific repairs accordingly.

Oscar J Sullivan, Clerk
